

CORTADO

Business Class of Cloud Desktop Services

Disclaimer for the use of the Enterprise Portal

The information displayed in the Enterprise Portal is provided „as is“ without any warranty for correctness or fitness for a particular purpose.

Cortado offers the Enterprise Portal only for your convenience. You acknowledge and agree that any information displayed and/or services offered may be changed, amended, ceased to be offered or otherwise altered at any time in Cortado's sole discretion. Also, Cortado shall not be liable for any inconveniences due to downtimes of the Enterprise Portal regardless of the cause or any other technical problems.

If you log on to the Enterprise Portal using a group email address, please be aware that this will permit all individuals with access to the group email and log in credentials to view all licenses, request activations, issue other requests, and/or use all other benefits the Enterprise Portal offers (without being limited hereto). Please note that any and all activities in the Enterprise Portal will be attributed to the group email address only and NOT to an individual. Cortado will not assume any liability for any unclarities or unwanted consequences which may arise from the use of group email addresses.

Please also note that in case of discrepancies between information displayed in this Enterprise Portal and the actual status quo of your licensing and any and all issues related hereto, the actual status quo verifiable as per your orders, invoices, offers and/or any other documentation are exclusively applicable and decisive.